

INDIAN HEALTH SERVICES

ABOUT IHS

Nationwide: the Indian Health Service seeks to raise the physical, mental, social, and spiritual health of American Indians and Alaska Natives to the highest level through comprehensive, culturally acceptable personal and public health services.

Woodrow Wilson Keeble Memorial Health Care Center: located in Sisseton, this IHS facility provides primary care and clinical services. It offers referrals but does not have a delivery room.

ELIGIBILITY: Native American enrolled in a federally recognized tribe.

PHONE: 605-698-7606

ADDRESS: 100 Lake Traverse Dr.

MORE INFORMATION

SERVICES: Patients can choose to have their primary care physician through IHS. They offer a prenatal clinic and pediatric services for after birth. Other services include:

- ◇ Behavioral Health
- ◇ Dental
- ◇ Diabetes Care
- ◇ Health Promotion/Disease Prevention
- ◇ Laboratory
- ◇ Nursing
- ◇ Radiology
- ◇ Optometry
- ◇ Pharmacy
- ◇ Primary Care
- ◇ Public Health Nursing
- ◇ Physical Therapy
- ◇ Specialty Clinic (OB/GYN)
- ◇ Weight Loss/Nutrition
- ◇ Well Child Care
- ◇ Men/Women's Health

AVAILABILITY: No case limit.

IHS Caveat: Direct health care services are services provided at an IHS/Tribal/ Urban facilities Purchased/Referred Care (PRC) are services that the IHS is unable to provide in its own facilities. PRC are provided by non-IHS health care providers and facilities. PRC payments are authorized based on clearly defined guidelines and are subject to availability of funds. The Indian Health Service cannot always guarantee that funds are always available. Funds appropriated by the U.S. Congress currently cover an estimated 60% of health care needs of the eligible American Indian and Alaska Native people.